

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA
COUNTY OF COLLETON

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS
FOURTEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT

State of South Carolina,

v.

Richard Alexander Murdaugh,

Defendant.

Indictment Nos. 2022-GS-15-00592, -593,
-594, and -595

MOTION TO COMPEL

Defendant Richard Alexander Murdaugh, through undersigned counsel, pursuant to Rule 5, SCCRP, Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963) and Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150 (1972), hereby moves to compel the State to produce the following materials:

1. Any and all testing results of Paul and Maggie's clothing, including DNA, GSR.

- a. The State has produced two lengthy DNA reports and a gunshot residue [GSR] report. However, none of these reports indicate results of any analysis of Maggie and Paul's clothing. If the State has conducted any such analysis, then this information must be provided under Rule 5. If the State has not conducted any such analysis, the State should be required to notify the defense, as this failure to conduct any DNA analysis of Paul and Maggie's clothing would be convincing evidence that the State's investigation has only been solely focused on the Defendant since the night of the murders.

2. GSR testing lab results and bench notes, providing the specific number of particles removed from Defendant's shirt, shorts and hands.

- a. The State has produced a report indicating that GSR was found on Defendant's shirt and shorts, but no GSR found on Defendant's hands or shoes. However, this report does not quantify the amount of GSR found. The State has produced additional notes from investigators and lab personnel stating that three GSR articles were obtained from Defendant's shirt, three GSR particles from Defendant's shorts, one particle¹ from his hands, and no particles from ¹ This finding of one particle is inconsistent with the GSR report concluding that no GSR was found on the Defendant's hands. This inconsistent is most attributed to the minimum threshold particle requirements needed to state that there is the presence of GSR. Most labs do not report out a positive finding unless there are at least 3 particles.

Defendant's shoes. Furthermore, the GSR lab analysis further states that the amount of GSR found on Defendant is consistent with transfer particles from a shotgun that the Defendant retrieved while he was waiting for emergency personnel to arrive at the scene after he called 911. Defendant has requested the specific laboratory analysis documenting the specific particles found on Defendant's clothing and person. This information is necessary so that Defendant's expert can assess whether the amount of GSR found on the Defendant and his clothing is inconsistent with the State's theory that the Defendant shot his son Paul at close range with a shotgun. The State has indicated that the requested information will be produced.

3. Cell phone forensic analysis.

- a. The State has produced an external hard drive containing data from cell phone downloads from numerous cell phones. The State also indicated certain cell phones were sent to the FBI for further analysis, in addition to the SLED cell phone analyst's examinations. Defense counsel has been informed that the State intends to rely upon its analysis of various artifacts within Maggie and Paul's phones as evidence of time of death. However, the State has not produced any such analysis and when questioned about the existence of such analysis, the State indicates that no final report has been issued. Defendant requests the Court set a deadline for the State to produce any such report in sufficient time for the defense forensic cell phone expert to review and analyze the data prior to trial.

4. Complete autopsy file.

- a. The State has obtained and produced the autopsy report and autopsy photos. However, the State does not have the pathologist's handwritten notes and diagrams which are commonly made during the course of an autopsy of shooting victims. The Defendant needs this information to provide to the defense pathologist for review.

5. Documents and information relating to the State's retained crime scene expert.

- a. The defense has been provided a final report, and one draft report, prepared by the State's retained crime scene expert. However, according to notes in the investigative file, there should be a third draft dated March 22, 2022. Defendant requests this draft, and all other drafts which have not been produced, so that a comparison can be made between the various versions of the retained expert's reports.
- b. Photographs of the forensic mannequins used by the State's retained expert (referenced as information considered in his analysis in the FINAL report).
- c. All emails between SLED and the State's retained crime scene expert.

6. Documents and information relating to blood stain analysis performed or requested to be performed by all experts with whom the State consulted.
 - a. Defendant seeks the production of any documents relating to any blood stain analysis performed, or requested to be performed, by the State from all persons with whom the State has consulted regarding blood stain pattern analysis on the Defendant's clothing. This includes any report, letters, notes, diagrams, photographs, computer reconstruction, demonstrative aid, or other items prepared or produced by or for such expert.
7. Photos of Maggie's phone taken by Johnson CCSO and Dylan Hightower with the Colleton County Solicitor's office; these are photos of the phone when they found it on the side of the road.
8. All SLED lab bench notes relating to all forensic analysis conducted in this investigation.
 - a. The State has produced various reports, and upon request, has produced bench notes and data underlying such reports. However, the State has not produced bench notes and underlying data for the GSR report, fingerprint analysis, or shoe and tire print analyses.
9. Copies of any and all jail phone calls made by the Defendant, which the State intends to offer into evidence at trial.
 - a. According to investigative notes, and the logs produced by Richland County, SLED and the Attorney General's Office have been listening and/or recording telephone calls made by the Defendant from jail. The State has not notified the defense if it intends to offer any of these calls into evidence. If so, the State is obligated under Rule 5 to provide these statements to the defense within 30 days upon receipt of the discovery request, and to supplement with any additional calls it intends to offer.
10. Polygraph stim test and chart recordings for all polygraphs conducted in this investigation.
 - a. SLED has conducted polygraph tests on Curtis Smith and three other individuals. Defendant requests the underlying test data so that his expert witness can assess whether the charts indicate deception and, as to Curtis Smith, assess the degree of deception that is indicated.

11. Audio and video recordings of Curtis Eddie Smith's interviews.

- a. There are at least two audio and video recordings of interviews with Eddie Smith that have not been produced: September 7, 2021 and September 14, 2021. Defense counsel is informed and believed that Smith makes statements about his involvement in the roadside shooting that are inconsistent with later statements. The State has indicated that Smith is expected to be a prosecution witness. Defendant is entitled to these prior statements under Brady.

12. Return for Google search warrant number 105.

- a. The State has produced a copy of a search warrant issued to Google in September 2022, approximately one month after Defendant was indicted. This search warrant seeks geofencing data from the Mozelle property and a nearby tract of land. However, the Defendant has not been provided a return to this warrant, nor has Defendant been provided any data produced by Google in response to this warrant.

13. SLED interoffice emails.

- a. There are numerous references to receiving interoffice emails in SLED's case notes. The State is required to either produce these emails to the defense or the Attorney General's office should review these emails and produce Brady material to the defense.

14. Colleton County Sheriff's Department and Fourteenth Circuit Solicitor's files, including electronically stored information.

- a. The defense has not been provided case notes and other investigative material from the Fourteenth Circuit Solicitor's Office or Colleton County Sheriff's Department, other than BWC recordings and photographs.

15. BWC of Debbie McMillian and Grant Candor.

- a. There are bodycam recordings of interviews with Debbie McMillan and Grant Candor, according to the investigative notes. However, no such recording has been produced.

Defendant respectfully requests the Court issue an Order compelling the State to produce the above information immediately, and no later than 10 days from the entry of the Order, and for such other and further relief as the Court deems appropriate.

MOTION TO STRIKE NOTICE OF ALIBI DEFENSE

Defendant Richard Alexander Murdaugh, through undersigned counsel, hereby moves to strike the State's demand for notice of alibi defense because the State has not provided the time, date and place at which the alleged offense occurred as required under Rule 5(e)(1). Rule 5(e)(1) provides:

Upon written request of the prosecution stating the time, date and place at which the alleged offense occurred, the defendant shall serve within ten days, or at such time as the court may direct, upon the prosecution a written notice of his intention to offer an alibi defense.

On September 8, 2022, the State filed and served a motion for reciprocal discovery and disclosure of evidence (Motion), which is attached hereto as Exhibit A. In the request for the Defendant to provide notice of an alibi defense, the State has failed to provide the time that it alleges the murders took place. The motion merely states:

Pursuant to Rule 5(e) of the South Carolina Rules of Criminal Procedure, if the Defendant intends to rely upon the defense of alibi, please give Notice within ten (10) days of the date of this request of the intent to rely on alibi and give the specific place or places the Defendant claims to have been at the time of the alleged offense and the names and address of the witnesses upon he intends to rely to establish such alibi.

Id. at ¶ 3.

The undersigned informed the State that its demand of notice of alibi defense failed to comply with the specificity requirements of Rule 5(e)(1) in a correspondence dated September 19, 2022, attached hereto as Exhibit B. The State has not served an amended discovery request which sets forth the time, date and place of the offense as required.

The State has not produced any evidence in discovery setting forth the time of the murders, except for the death certificates of Maggie and Paul. The State failed to identify the time it contends the murders occurred in their motion. Furthermore, the State failed to provide a specific time of the murders in response to counsel's letter dated September 19, 2022. As a result, one must conclude that the State cannot establish through forensic evidence or otherwise the time the murders occurred.

For the reasons stated, the State's request for notice of alibi defense must be stricken.

Re: State v. Richard Alexander Murdaugh
Indictment Nos. 2022-GS-15-00592-595

Dear Creighton

I am hereby responding to the State's reciprocal discovery request for a Notice of Alibi defense pursuant to Rule 5(e), SCRCrimP. As we discussed Friday, the State has not provided the time, date and place at which the alleged offense occurred. This specificity is required under Rule 5(e)(1) before the Defendant is obligated to respond.

Therefore, we will not be responding to the Notice of Alibi request until the State provides the time, date, and place at which the alleged offense occurred. Once the State has complied with the specificity requirement of Rule 5(e)(1), we will respond within ten (10) days as provided in the Rule.

If you contend that we are nevertheless obligated to provide a Notice of Alibi defense even though the State's request fails to identify the time, date and place at which the alleged offense occurred, please advise us immediately so that we can bring this matter to the attention of the Court through a formal motion.

With best regards, I am

Very Truly Yours,

James M. Griffin

The State of South Carolina, through the undersigned, hereby responds as follows to a motion to compel filed by the defense on Friday, October 14, 2022, a second motion to compel filed by the defense on October 17, 2021, and a Motion to Strike Notice of Alibi filed by the defense on Tuesday, October 18, 2022. The motions are without merit.

A. BACKGROUND

As always, the State is willing to work to ensure the defense has discovery to which it is entitled, and even has provided discovery far in excess of what is technically required by rule. To this end, just on the murder case alone, the State has, as of October 19, 2022, turned over 206 GB of information, incorporating hundreds of individual files and documents representing thousands of pages. That does not even include an additional 470 GB of information provided to the defense on an external hard drive. The State began to provide discovery only relevant to the murders of Maggie and Paul by 11:24am on Wednesday, August 31, 2022, which was the first morning after Judge Newman's clerk sent the signed Protective Order to us at 5:47 p.m. on Tuesday, August 30, 2022. All of this was in addition to extensive and related State Grand Jury discovery, which the State began to provide on January 13, 2022, and was then supplemented over the following months as the State Grand Jury indicted Alex Murdaugh with additional charges. Collectively the discovery provided is over three quarters of a terabyte.

Indeed, on multiple occasions the State has quickly responded to defense counsel and identified where certain evidence was in the extensive discovery provided that the defense thought it had not received but in fact had. Moreover, even though Rule 5(a)(2) does not require the State to turn over “statements made by prosecution witnesses or prospective prosecution witnesses” until after the witness has testified on direct examination in a trial, the State has been turning over statements in its possession, many of which were recorded.

Interestingly, the undersigned had a long conversation with defense counsel on Thursday, October 13, 2022, discussing discovery issues in which there was no disagreement, including about some issues raised in the current motions. This was a pleasant and reasonable conversation, but – of course, as usual -- at no time during this conversation did counsel mention the defense was going to file an aggressive and misleading motion to compel just one day later. And, as usual, the undersigned first found out about the defense’s October 14, 2022 motion from inquiries to the Office from press who had it well before defense counsel bothered to send a professional courtesy copy to this Court and the State. Again, this manner of conducting litigation says a lot about the defense’s true motives here, and the Court should not be moved by such tactics.

B. MOTION TO COMPEL FROM OCTOBER 14, 2022

There are no issues with the requested information that need compulsion, and Defendant's motion is unnecessary and premature. First, however, it is necessary to address the misleading contentions and impression the defense makes about the Curtis Eddie Smith's polygraph.

1. Eddie Smith and the Polygraph

Of course, a big part of the current motion is related to Curtis Eddie Smith, and seems more designed to attempt to attempt to color the public view of the case by highlighting a previously provided polygraph result – which Defendant and his counsel certainly have to know is generally inadmissible in evidence because polygraphs do not meet the standard for reliability for a criminal trial. Defendant Alex Murdaugh also seems to pursue the same aim of prejudicing the public by quoting in a public filing some scuttlebutt story Eddie Smith related he heard about a groundskeeper having an affair with Maggie -- a story which defense counsel knows has no basis in anyone's personal knowledge or evidentiary fact and frankly is insulting to her memory. It says a lot about Defendant's true motives here with these motions that he would prominently feature such salacious content which adds nothing to a pretrial motion supposedly on legal issues.

As usual, Defendant Alex Murdaugh and his counsel here are attempting to make a mountain out of something they know is inadmissible, and incorrectly imply that the State was hiding something – when it was the State that provided the defense with the polygraph results as well as polygraph interview of Eddie Smith on the first day murder discovery was authorized, August 31, 2022. The State has also previously provided the defense with Curtis Eddie Smith's proffer, as well as another statement of Smith's and multiple records involving him. No one -- on the State side at least -- is hiding anything here.

Secondly, since the defense has decided to spend a few pages on it, it is important to point out that Murdaugh's defense motion is misleading how polygraphs actually work. Maybe Defendant Murdaugh and his experienced defense counsel are unaware of how polygraphs really work when they put pictures in the motion with the idea that a supposed spike means someone was lying about a certain question. A polygraph examination is a procedure in which a subject is measured for certain physiological and psychological reactions while responding to questions in a controlled environment. The polygraph machine is not a "lie detector," nor does the operator who interprets the graphs detect "lies;" rather, the machine records physical responses from which an examiner may draw somewhat subjective inferences about whether the examinee is being deceptive or otherwise motivated by a sense of guilt or some other emotion. See Adam B. Shniderman, You Can't Handle the Truth: Lies, Damn Lies, and the Exclusion of Polygraph Evidence, 22 ALBLJST 433, 449-50 ("The machine does not directly detect lies. . . . Instead, the polygraph works on the assumption that certain physiological responses occur in an individual when he or she lies."); see also U.S. Department of Justice, Criminal Resource Manual § 259 ("The machine records physical responses which may or may not be connected with an emotional reaction—and that reaction may or may not be related to guilt or innocence.").

Almost universally throughout the nation, polygraphs generally are not admissible in courts because of their inherent subjectivity and reliability issues. See State v. Palmer, 415 S.C. 502, 517-18, 783 S.E.2d 823, 831 (Ct. App. 2016) ("[T]he general rule is that no mention of a polygraph test should be placed before the jury.”, quoting State v. Johnson, 376 S.C. 8, 11, 654 S.E.2d 835, 836 (2007)); State v. Wright, 322 S.C. 253, 255, 471 S.E.2d 700, 701 (1996) (“Generally, the results of polygraph examinations are inadmissible because the reliability of the polygraph is questionable.”, quoting State v. Copeland, 278 S.C. 572, 300 S.E.2d 63 (1982)); State v. McHoney, 344 S.C. 85, 96-97, 544 S.E.2d 30, 35-36 (2001) (citing State v. Council, 335 S.C. 1, 515 S.E.2d 508 (1999)) (noting that polygraph related evidence should be analyzed under Rules 702 and 403, SCRE., and stating “[t]o this day, the scientific community remains extremely polarized about the reliability of polygraph techniques.”)).¹ Polygraphs remain at best a tool to be assessed only in the context of other evidence, and only for investigative purposes, not trial purposes.

Further, the pictures of the polygraph Defendant puts in his motion, while they may make for interesting content, simply do not mean what the defense tries to convince the reader they mean. The highlighted view of the screen appears to be a movement spike, not an answer. Regardless, polygraphs are not scored like people think from the movies where the needle goes crazy on a specific question and that somehow means the person lied about the content of that specific question. Polygraphs are scored in their entirety, between control and relevant questions, and even a failure does not mean that a person is lying about the content of their answers, but merely— if the result is even reliable for a particular person – that the person is motivating some sort of feeling or emotion about the situation as a whole. This result could easily happen from one who merely has not disclosed everything they know about the situation or feels guilty about circumstances leading up to it, without necessarily having any involvement in a specific crime whatsoever.

It appears that Defendant's experienced team of defense lawyers do not understand how polygraphs work, or they are vastly overstating their point to this Court and for public consumption. Those are the only two choices. Even if the polygraph did mean what Defendant tries to mislead the reader into believing, nothing about that would exclude Defendant as the perpetrator of the crime. The overwhelming weight of the evidence to be put forth at trial will show Defendant Alex Murdaugh he murdered his wife in son with malice aforethought.

The State has nothing to hide and is not hiding anything as it relates to Curtis Eddie Smith. It says a lot about Alex Murdaugh's defense that he (1) makes such a huge deal out of a generally inadmissible polygraph that defense counsel must know does not meet the standards for reliability to be evidence in a trial, and (2) freely recounts a scuttlebutt story Eddie Smith "heard" which has no actual evidence to support it, and which disparages the very victims Defendant murdered in this case – his wife Maggie and son Paul.

2. Request for all polygraph data and notes

Here, Defendant goes straight to a motion to compel without any prior communication even though the State was the one to provide him with the polygraph results as soon as it was authorized back on August 31, 2022. The underlying data and notes were received yesterday and there will be no problem providing them as soon as they are processed and uploaded. No issue.

3. Evidence collected pursuant to search of Smith's home on 9/7/21

Any information not previously turned over was turned over on October 18, 2022, consistent with what had generally been discussed with defense counsel without any indicated problem during the call on Thursday, October 13, 2022.

4. Evidence collected pursuant to search warrant of Smith's phone in September 2021

Evidence related to this search warrant was provided to the defense on the first day murder discovery was authorized, 4:03 p.m. on August 31, 2022. The file was entitled "0061 – Curtis Smith Cell Phone Records". Yet again a non-issue which puts into perspective the real motives behind overcooked nature of the defense's motion. Moreover, the defense has had for months the external hard drive with the phone dump that includes Smith's phone. If they need help finding it the State will be glad to help. There is no issue.

5. Any records, notes, or reports of any interview with Donna Eason

Information on a Donna Eason interview was initially provided on January 28, 2022. The defense was authorized to review Donna Eason transcripts as early as August 10, 2022 – but it is on them to actually take advantage of that authorization. Any additional discoverable Donna Eason interview recordings or memorandums of interview have been provided as of October 19, 2022. There is no issue.

6. Disclosure of all DNA test results regarding Eddie Smith

All DNA evidence to date has been turned over. Some analysis remains pending and will be provided as soon as forensic analysis is completed. There is no issue.

7. All cooperation or non-prosecution agreements between the State and Smith

The State turned over the proffer agreement with Curtis Eddie Smith on September 20, 2022. A proffer agreement is just an interview agreement and is NOT a cooperation agreement nor a non-prosecution agreement. The State has no cooperation or non-prosecution agreement with Curtis Eddie Smith. Indeed, the State has currently charged Smith with 19 crimes encompassing a possible sentence of over 180 years, and Smith is currently in pre-trial lockup based on the State's motion to revoke his bond. There is no issue here either.

The defense has or is getting as soon as available the any relevant, discoverable, and material information requested. Despite yet another inflammatory defense motion, there is no need for compulsion, and Defendant Alex Murdaugh's motion is clearly just meant to try to prejudice the reader with a recounting of inadmissible polygraphs and salacious scuttlebutt that is offensive to the memory of his victims.

C. MOTION TO COMPEL FROM OCTOBER 17, 2022

There is also no need for compulsion as to Defendant's second motion from October 17, 2022. As noted before, defense counsel would have to concede there was no problem during undersigned's discussion with defense counsel on Thursday, October 13, 2022, but also no mention they would be filing a motion to compel the next day. Again, these appear to be non-issues and the motion more for public consumption than actual legal necessity.

Rule 5, SCRCrimP has limitations on what is required to be turned over to the defense – subject always to the mandates of Brady. The materiality standard of Rule 5(a)(1)(C) discussed above is one such limitation. That being said, the undersigned's practice is to turn over more than required by the Rule, and has been applying that practice to defense requests within the realm of reasonableness.

Rule 5(a)(2) of the Rules of Criminal Procedure also does not "authorize the discovery or inspection of reports, memoranda, or other internal prosecution documents made by the attorney for the prosecution or other prosecution agents in connection with the investigation or prosecution of the case".

1. Testing results on Paul and Maggie's clothing

Any DNA or GSR results in existence have been provided. In the event additional forensic results are generated, that analysis will be provided as soon as it is done. No issue.

2. GSR lab results and bench notes

GSR results have been provided. Defendant concedes in his motion that the State has already indicated the underlying data would be produced. Later, under section 8, the defense concedes the State has provided underlying bench notes and data whenever requested. The request was made during the collegial call on October 13, 2022, and accordingly the information will be provided. No issue yet again as the request itself concedes.

3. Cell phone forensic analysis

As noted before, the State has provided the defense with extensive cell phone records which they can analyze. Once any further analysis is completed that is discoverable, it will be timely provided. There is no issue.

4. Complete autopsy file

The autopsy report and photos were provided on August 31, 2022. The defense during the October 13, 2022 call asked for the underlying notes and the State agreed. The notes have been requested from MUSC and will be timely provided upon receipt. There is no issue.

5. Documents and information related to State's retained crime scene expert

The State has been providing and will timely provide all material and discoverable information regarding its crime scene expert. There is no issue.

6. Documents and information related to blood stain analysis

The State has been providing and will timely provide all material and discoverable information regarding its crime scene expert. There is no issue.

7. Photos of Maggie's phone taken by CCSO and Solicitor's Office

Photos taken by the Fourteenth Circuit Solicitor's Office were requested during the call on October 13, 2022, and were obtained and provided as of October 18, 2022. There is no issue.

8. All SLED bench notes relating to all forensic evidence conducted

The defense concedes the State has provided underlying bench notes and data whenever requested. The request for additional notes was made during the collegial call on October 13, 2022, and accordingly the information has been sought and will be provided. No issue yet again.

9. All of Defendant's jail calls, which the State intends to offer into evidence

Of course, Defendant should know what he said, and of course there have been no real calls since the bond hearing in which jail calls were discussed – just a number of long calls to defense counsel's office which the State has not reviewed. The State will provide jail calls that it has reviewed, but it has been exceptionally restrictive not to review calls, even though third parties were present, and thus will not provide those. It may be necessary for the Court to do a privilege review.

10. Polygraph stim test and chart recordings

As noted before, the request was made and these will be timely provided. Now that the request has been made for the other three, they will be obtained and provided as well. There is no issue.

11. Audio and Video Recordings of Curtis Eddie Smith's interviews

They have been provided. There is no issue.

12. Return for Google Search Warrant 105

This Office does not have this data yet but once received will be timely provided.

13. SLED Interoffice Emails

At the call on October 13, 2022, defense counsel and the State agreed that while it is not required to provide all interoffice emails, a Brady review will occur.

14. CCSO and 14th Circuit Files

As noted before, CCSO and 14th Circuit information has been provided, but a review with those agencies will occur and any information will be timely provided.

15. Body worn camera data of Debbie McMillian and Grant Condor

The body camera for Debbie McMillian was turned over August 31, 2022. To help the defense find the file name in the discovery they have had for months, it is entitled – “0061-Deborah McMillian 6-14-21 interview” (Bates label SGJ 43). The Grant Condor audio of the interview was turned over on June 9, 2022. The Condor body camera has been turned over as of October 19, 2022.

The second motion to compel is unnecessary and compulsion is not warranted. Additionally, not one shred of reciprocal discovery has been provided by the defense.

III. MOTION TO STRIKE NOTICE OF ALIBI DEFENSE

Finally, Defendant seeks to strike the notice of alibi defense. The motion has no merit.

The defense incorrectly asserts the State has not provided any information about the time of the murders. This is not true. As noted before the defense has already received three quarters of a terabyte of information. In State v. Benton, 435 S.C. 250, 865 S.E.2d 919 (Ct. App. 2021), the court noted that the State there had provided ample discovery for the defense to review, and the defense clearly knew the date, time, and place of the crime. The court concluded that “finding the failure to include an exact time automatically renders an alibi request ineffective would be an overly technical application of Rule 5(e).” Id.

The indictments in this case clearly allege that Maggie and Paul were killed on June 7, 2021 in Colleton County. Defendant Alex Murdaugh made the 911 call at 10:06 p.m. and was at the kennels at the Moeselle property where the victims were lying when the law enforcement arrived. The fact that Maggie and Paul were killed at Moeselle on June 7, 2021 might be one of the most well-known facts in the State. Moreover, the State orally told defense counsel the parameters of time during the phone call.

However, if the defense needs further help for a start time, there is evidence of which the defense is well aware showing Defendant’s presence along with the victims at the crime scene at 8:44 p.m.

The motion is without merit and should be denied.
