1 THE COURT: And so let's begin with the call of the 2 case. We are here today for SPCR22-03364, State of Georgia 3 v. Leilani Simon. And Bob Attridge and Joe Vigneri are 4 here for Ms. Simon, and we have Shalena Jones and Tim Dean 5 here for the State. We're here - the case is scheduled for 6 and was originally scheduled for a status conference which 7 is usual for the beginning of a criminal case. The media 8 of course expressed some interest in that case, and the 9 Court received several requests for permission to record as 10 well.

11 Fortunately Judge Karpf appeared at the first hearing 12 that was set on June 25th and indicated this Court would 13 issue a detailed ruling as to the Rule 22 hearing and the 14 recording of the proceedings at a later time. So first I 15 want to address the issue of the Rule 22, the request for 16 permission to record. I have spoken with both attorneys 17 for the State and attorneys for the defense. And I would 18 like to ask you briefly if you would state your positions 19 on the record with regards to recording. Mr. Dean.

20 MR. DEAN: Your Honor, Tim Dean for the State. The 21 State is objecting to any recording, photographing, 22 livestreaming, broadcasting of any of the proceedings in 23 this case pretrial or trial. Our argument probably 24 admittedly applies with more force to substantive motions
25 hearings and the trial than it does to this proceeding.

1 But it centers around statutory factor (h). Any special
2 circumstances of the parties, witnesses, alleged victims, 3 or other participants such as the need to protect children 4 or factors involving safety of participants in the judicial 5 proceeding.

6 I think that - so that's the center of gravity for our 7 argument against allowing recording, broadcasting, 8 livestreaming. And it probably differs from what the 9 defense is focused on in their opposition to such requests.
10 But our concern here is that the victim in this case, 11 Quinton Simon, has two surviving siblings. And they have 12 privacy interests. Their not of an age to consent to 13 recording or broadcasting of a proceeding that sort of, 14 while not directly about them, touches on their life and 15 their circumstances to some degree inextricably and 16 unavoidably.

17 But our position is that obviously under the First 18 Amendment to the United States Constitution media personnel 19 have a right to be present for the trial and to report on 20 it with pen and paper and write stories about it. And that 21 right can only be abridged in very narrow circumstances
22 along the lines of courtroom closures. But there is no 23 constitutional right to broadcast, televise, livestream, 24 photograph proceedings. The two things are just different.

25 And our position is that with respect to those two

1 surviving children there's just a qualitative difference in 2 there being existing on the internet as they reach the age
3 of majority and go into adulthood some scattered print news 4 stories about this case and about their family and about 5 this tragedy and there being a recording of the entire 6 proceedings about their mom and their brother existing 7 online in perpetuity to be replayed. And will be cut up 8 into highlight reels and blooper reels and things like 9 that. Because these are the things that happen with trial 10 footage.

11 And so that is our position. These children are the 12 subject of a parallel proceeding in Juvenile Court. I
13 think it's illustrative, if not controlling, that records 14 of that proceeding are not accessible to the public. And 15 that while Juvenile Court proceedings of the nature that 16 they're involved in are normally open to the public, they 17 are not open to the public in this particular case.
18 Because the Juvenile Court Judge who's presiding over them 19 has put into place an order closing the courtroom based on 20 her analysis of all the factors and interests in play here.

21 I'm aware that we may have to argue this in more 22 detail later for the purpose of future hearings that are 23 set in this case and may have to make an evidentiary record 24 supporting our position. But in so far as the Court is 25 just asking us to briefly state our position today, that is

1 where the State is at on this matter.

2 THE COURT: Thank you.

3 MR. ATTRIDGE: Good afternoon, Judge.

4 THE COURT: Good afternoon.

5 MR. ATTRIDGE: Your Honor, I respect the State's 6 position. In a lot of ways I agree with them. My concern 7 is protecting my client's right to a fair trial and having 8 a potential jury coming in here that's impartial and to 9 ensure that people are not coming into a courtroom with 10 outside information that may prevent them from being 11 impartial. I look at this from the perspective of the news 12 media as well as social media.

13 As far as the news media, which is the Rule 22 we're 14 dealing with today, I have no problems with any type of 15 recording or whatever they want to broadcast for today's 16 hearing. I also believe that the Court should not grant a 17 blanket Rule 22. I read the rule to require that every 18 hearing there must be a procedural request to record that.
19 As the State pointed out, there could be some hearing, such 20 as a status check, where there may be non-evidentiary
21 matters which I may not have an objection.

22 But there may be some evidentiary hearings which I
23 would have an objection to. So I don't have any problems
24 today. I also agree with the State's analysis that an open 25 courtroom does not necessarily mean, and the right to the

1 press does not necessarily mean, they have a right to 2 videotape proceedings. They have a right to be present, to 3 witness, and to report. But this idea of videotaping I 4 don't think is a right that they have under the 5 constitution. And as I mentioned to the Court in chambers, 6 if such a right existed under the U.S. Constitution then 7 they would be recording in Federal Court. I know that just 8 does not take place.

9 So the Court, I think, has to be looking at this from 10 a balancing test, protecting the defendant's right to a 11 fair trial and protecting the press's right to freedom of 12 speech and freedom of press. And the Court will. I 13 understand that. So that's - I have no objections for 14 today recording it. But I think for further hearings I 15 think we have to go on a case by case basis.

16 As far as the social media aspect, I don't want to get 17 into the livestreaming or not but - as for Rule 22. But as 18 far as the livestreaming, I would oppose to any 19 livestreaming based on the fact that you do have some 20 control over the news media. But you have no control over 21 social media and what goes on out there. And 22 livestreaming, I think, just creates a frenzy in social 23 media.

24 And I think in my opinion there's a lot of 25 misinformation out there in social media. It thrives on

1 misinformation, conspiracy theories, all these things. And 2 I would be opposed to any type of livestreaming to prevent 3 any type of social media misinformation. That's my 4 position on the Rule 22, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Attridge. I will say that 6 certainly when it comes to the Rule 22 and whether or not 7 the media will be allowed to record at various hearings, it 8 certainly is a balancing test. And there is the balance of 9 many of the things that the State has mentioned as well as 10 the defense, the lives of the folks that are involved, the 11 ability to get a fair trial, social media. Even though 12 that's not a part of it, it certainly is an ancillary part.

13 I will state at this point after consideration I am 14 not going to livestream. That will not happen in this 15 case. I will not issue a blanket permission to record the 16 proceedings. And of course the media has the right to be 17 present. The courtrooms are present. The media has the 18 right to come in here, report. But a Rule 22 request for 19 permission to record has to be presented each time. So 20 there's no blanket no. There's no blanket yes. It will be 21 handled on a case by case basis.

22 I am going to rule as we go and as those requests come 23 in. And I'll take all of that under advisement. As to the 24 issue regarding the DFACS records, the Court has those 25 records now and will conduct an in camera inspection. And

1 I will provide access to those records as they are 2 reasonably calculated to lead to discovery of admissible
3 evidence. And the last thing, third matter, at this point 4 is regarding the defense's motion to quash the State's 5 subpoena for the production of evidence.

6 This was a subpoena to Billie Jo Howell, also known as 7 Billie Jo Betterton, for any and all diaries, writings,
8 letters, that belonged to Leilani or jointly with Leilani
9 Simon. I understand that those records have been produced 10 today. And the Court will take them into custody and 11 safekeeping and hold those. We will put the hearing down 12 for a later date regarding the defense's motion to quash.

13 Other than that, we are here today for a status 14 conference. We talked some about how discovery will 15 proceed. I understand that there is a lot of evidence and 16 discovery that is coming in and will be coming in on a 17 rolling basis. Some of that will not be able to be handled 18 with a set scheduling order the way we may normally handle 19 that. That will have to be a little bit more fluid. And 20 of course we will take each of those things under 21 consideration as we continue. Anything else from the 22 State?

23 MS. COOK JONES: Nothing from the State, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Defense?

25 MR. ATTRIDGE: Can we have Ms. Howell come forward on

1 the record and produce those records to the Court?

2 THE COURT: Ms. Howell. And for the record, ma'am,
3 you are Betty Jo -

4 MS. HOWELL: Billie Jo Howell.

5 THE COURT: Billie Jo Howell.

6 MS. HOWELL: Yes, ma'am.

7 THE COURT: All right. And Ms. Howell has just 8 handed in a number of booklets. I am counting nine - eight 9 total books slash notebooks that have compilations of 10 information within them. I will take this evidence, and we 11 will hold it in safekeeping. Thank you for bringing those 12 documents. And is there anything on the record regarding 13 Ms. Howell that should be placed on the record to perfect 14 things at this point?

15 MR. ATTRIDGE: Judge, I am going to have her testify 16 when you do set the matter for the motion to quash. So at 17 this time I don't see any need to have her testify.

18 THE COURT: Ms. Howell, you will not testify today.
19 You will be notified of a later date for your testimony.

20 MS. HOWELL: Yes, ma'am.

21 THE COURT: Thank you for being here.

22 MS. HOWELL: Yes, ma'am.

23 THE COURT: Okay. If there is nothing else, we stand 24 adjourned.

25 END OF PROCEEDINGS.
