On my original supplement, I incorrectly marked the dates of the event as to occurring in March instead of February. This supplement was completed to address this discrepancy.

******

On February 28, 2024, I, Detective Cabral #743, was contacted by Major Crimes Detective's Morris and Detective Corporal Illgen in regard to a homicide case.

I was provided two vehicle license plates for vehicles that were suspected to be involved in the case on February 26, 2024 and February 27, 2024. IYLL82 on a silver Lincoln and [REDACTED] on a white Nissan both Florida plates. I ran both vehicles through our Vigilant License Plate Reader (LPR) Query and received several hits.

Utilizing the LPR hits as a point of reference, I began to generate a driving profile for the above listed vehicles. Later, when provided with video surveillance from the [REDACTED] Apartment complex, the starting and ending point of the vehicles travel, those dates and times were added into the profile. I also provided these profiles to Investigative Analyst Monica Winstead of the Orange County Sheriff's Office, for use in timeline construction with Orange County's own video resources.

The chronological profile for the silver Lincoln bearing Florida which I observed through a combination of apartment complex cameras, traffic cameras, and LPR cameras is as follows:

On February 26, 2024 at 0735 hours, a silver Lincoln MKZ with the tag IYLL82 is observed on the workshop camera of the complex. A male exits the vehicle and throws something into the complex dumpster, the male is wearing a red shirt and tan pants. At 0740 hours, the vehicle leaves through east gate of the complex. At 1014 hours, a silver Lincoln MKZ, enters the complex through the east gate of the complex, the driver appears similar to the male seen earlier at the dumpster.

At 1054 hours, the silver Lincoln MKZ with tag IYLL82 again parks by the workshop near the complex dumpster. The male exits the vehicle, now wearing a blue shirt, and again throws something into the complex dumpster.

At 1103 hours, a silver Lincoln MKZ is observed passing the intersection of San Sebastian and San Vital, within the complex. The vehicle then exits the complex through the main gate. At 1156 hours, a silver Lincoln MKZ enters through the rear gate of the complex with a male driver consistent with the driver on previous recordings.

At 1244 hours, the silver Lincoln MKZ again exits the rear gate of the complex, as I had a later LPR hit in the St. Cloud area, I tracked the vehicle through each intersection I had available traffic cameras. As these cameras are overhead views, I utilized marker vehicles (other vehicles following the same path) and the time frame of the vehicle passing each intersection to locate the vehicle at each new location. The approximate times, and locations of the corresponding intersection crossings are as follows:

1249:16: Dyer Boulevard / West Vine Street

1250:34: North Emory Avenue / West Vine Street

1253:49: North John Young Parkway / West Vine Street

1259:20: Fortune Road / East Irlo Bronson Memorial Highway

1300:35: Bill Beck Boulevard / East Irlo Bronson Memorial Highway

1306:53: LPR tag hit for IYLL82 at St. Cloud Commons located near Simmons Road / E Irlo Bronson Memorial Highway

1308:00 Sergeant Graham Drive / 13th Street

1308:35: Old Canoe Creek / 13th Street

1309:06: Neptune Road / 13th Street

1310:56: Budinger Avenue / 13th Street

1313:13: Vermont Avenue / 13th Street

1314:02: New York Avenue / 13th Street

1314:55: Michigan Avenue / 13th Street

1315:30: Delaware Avenue / 13th Street

1315:40: Mississippi Avenue / 13th Street

I could not locate the vehicle continuing to travel along this eastbound path at future intersections so I checked for surrounding cameras to where the vehicle was last observed.

I located a similar size, style and color vehicle pass Creative Inspirations (2030 Old Hickory Tree Dr, St. Cloud) camera facing Old Hickory Tree Drive, just south of 13th Street. The vehicle passed the location at 1316:58 which would correlate with the last intersection passed and the time frame. I did not have access to any cameras further along this path of travel.

Watching forward I located the vehicle return northbound on Old Hickory Tree Drive and turn west onto 13th Street in an apparent return path at 1411:30 hours. The vehicle now had a spare tire on the rear driver's side.

The vehicle is then observed returning through the rear gate of the [REDACTED] Apartment Complex at 1443:33 hours. At 1524 hours, the Lincoln MKZ returns to the workshop area where the same male again throws some items into the dumpster. He leaves then immediately returns at 1528 hours with more items to throw away. He returns again at 1636, hours to again throw items into the dumpster.

Similarly, I developed a vehicle movement profile for the white Nissan with the license plate [REDACTED]. I also reviewed the apartment complex camera footage for travel times.

Based on an LPR hit on the Nissan on 02/27/24, also at St. Cloud Commons and another on Academy Drive, the same path the Lincoln took, I again followed the route of the vehicle using indicators on the trim package of the car, the travel times and marker vehicles. At 0316:15 hours, the white Nissan exits the complex utilizing the main gate. The vehicle follows the same path the Lincoln followed the previous day, with the exception of utilizing the front gate of the complex.

Please read in its entirety. If you would like to vote. It is that time of the year again. Please write the programs office with the following information if you would like to vote in the 2024 Primary Election. 2024 Primary Election - Sign up by June 17 2024. Name Last Name Second Last Name Date of Birth Residential Address Status Status means have you registered to vote. We can give you voter registration forms and get them to the county you reside. By Law Book Closing is on July 22, 2024; anyone who wishes to vote in this election must be registered by that date. Misdemeanor convictions in Florida Can prisoners vote in jail? Generally, yes. You do not lose your right to vote if you are convicted of a misdemeanor in Florida. If you are incarcerated for a misdemeanor you should check voter registration status, register to vote if necessary, and request an absentee ballot from office administrators at your complex. You can vote while awaiting trial for any charge, even if incarcerated, as long as you have not lost your right to vote due to a prior conviction. Felony conviction not of moral turpitude in Florida Can felons vote in Florida? If you are convicted of a felony not of moral turpitude, you lose your right to vote, until the following conditions are met: You have completed your sentence, including probation, parole. Full payment of all restitution, fines, and other fees. Note: This requirement is subject to change, please see Next Steps if you have outstanding fees. A felony conviction in another state makes a person ineligible to vote in Florida only if the conviction would make the person ineligible to vote in the state where the person was convicted. Felony conviction of moral turpitude in Florida You permanently lose your right to vote if you are convicted of a felony of moral turpitude in Florida. Your right to vote can only be restored by a formal pardon from the Governor. Common felonies of moral turpitude include felonies involving murder or sexual abuse. This is not a complete list of felonies of moral turpitude. Voter registration deadlines Online registration deadline: 29 days before Election Day Register by mail deadline: Must be postmarked 29 days before Election Day In person registration deadline: 29 days before Election Day I have 12 inmates that requested to vote that are not registered as of the writing of this message. If you believe this is you, I will bring the form to you next week so we can have it completed. Once you are registered to Vote What is Vote-by-Mail Voting by mail is an option to voting during early voting or on Election Day. Once registered, you can request that a vote-by-mail ballot be sent or picked up in person. When Does a Request for Vote-by-Mail Expire? A request to receive a vote-by-mail ballot covers all elections from the date a request was submitted through the end of the calendar year for the next ensuing regularly scheduled general election. You can alternatively ask to receive the ballot for specified elections(s) within that period. A request must then be renewed thereafter if the voter wishes to continue to receive a vote-by-mail ballot after the expiration of each time period thereafter. If a vote-by-mail ballot is returned undeliverable during any election, it will cancel a request on record. If the voter requests a ballot thereafter, the voter must provide or confirm his or her current residential address before being able to get a ballot. What is the Deadline to Request that a Vote-by-Mail Ballot be Mailed The deadline to request that a ballot be mailed is no later than 5 p.m. on the 12th day before the election. A Supervisor of Elections must mail the ballot out within 2 business days after a request but no later than the 10th day before election day.

Hey! I just got access to the tablet again. They have moved me to a regular isolation cell in C pod now. Presumably this is where i will stay for a while. It's not exactly the Ritz, it's a small cell, and the pod is quite noisy. I didn't think I would miss the medical pod, but now I wish I was back in that big cell, where at least I could partially see out of the window and look at the sky and the grass and the trees off in the distance as they swayed in the breeze. I will try to call as soon as possible. I imagine you have your hands full with puppies, and i can't wait to hear all about it. I love you both, and will call soon. P.S. I am still waiting for the books to get into my hands, no clue if they were delivered yet. Maybe I will receive them in the next couple of days, hopefully. We'll see soon I suppose. I would like Congo and The Hobbit to be among the next ones that you send, please. And maybe also a book on Origami? That could be interesting to learn, and a good way to pass time and satisfy my need to create and craft and use my hands. Let's try that! Hopefully it's allowed, since it's just folding paper (which I have plenty of) into different shapes, so it shouldn't be a security concern I wouldn't think.

Good to hear about your transfer and access to the tablet. Will this be full time or limited like it is passed around on rotation. Let me know how often you have access to the tablet. We'll write something every day. Can you send your Mother an invite so she can write you separately? I'll help her get set up on her computer. We confirmed a few books were received yesterday the 18th (five of them) and one more on Monday. We'll jump on the Origami book and order it now. The puppies are doing well and Lacy is a SUPER MOM. Get this. Yesterday Mom had to rescue one of the puppies who got its leg in the collar. She snagged the puppy out of the pen, sat down on the bed to adjust the collar. While she was sitting there, Lacy, at a dead standstill leaped over the 3' pen and landed squarely on the bed to be with her puppy. I hate to think what would have happened if she miscalculated the jump. Today, after many consecutive days of rain, and threatening rain, no rain. We're in that rainy period of non-stop torrential rain that creates chaos with home building, flooding and messy days. At least the ponds and retention ponds are looking normal again. They were really low. Tomorrow we travel with Lacy and the puppies to the vet to have the dew claws removed. This will be fun. NOT! Although it's better than your Mother doing it who is always a nervous wreck. It's worth the expense to avoid - seven puppies is 28 dew claws. Yup. Better to have the vet do it. Mom's writing a message below... Ordered the Origami Kit which is book and 20 pieces of specific origami paper for the patterns. Also Send out The Hobbit and Congo. That will be it book wise for the next couple of weeks. Those should hold you. I have the rest you want in the cart and marked as Saved for Later so I wouldn't forget which ones you wanted. The is Mom writing. Love and hugs to you.

Hey The battery is low so o gotta be quick here. I don't know how often I will get the tablet, since others use it and i juat have to Wait until its available. Can't get the commissary to work on it yet, don't know why, but see if you can drop another $30 in there in the mean time so I can stock up on plenty of coffee. As for books, remove christine, it, and eyes of the dragon from the list. And just wait for the howling trilogy book to be available to send that. The battery is about to die now, i love you both. And I accepted moms previous request to connect. Hugs and kisses! Ttyl

Hey Stephan, I confirmed today the books were delivered minus the playing cards. They have to confirm if they are allowed. If not, they will be placed with your personal property. Puppies and Lacy went to the vet to have dew claws removed. We docked the tails ourselves. Glad that's done. Puppies and Lacy are resting - crashed out. Nothing else to report. It was a restless night for you Mom and Lacy. Lacy, as you know, is quite vocal, and is very vocal with your Mother during the night wanting attention, food, or to be let out. Lacy is a good mother but very demanding. I hope your Mom survives the ten weeks. At this pace I not sure. LOL. Catch you later.

Hey! I finally have the tablet again. I can confirm I have begun to receive the books: Dragon Teeth, Sphere, Timeline, Eaters Of The Dead, and Sudoku. I have already read through Dragon Teeth and Timeline since Thursday, and am now reading Eaters Of The Dead, lol. Unfortunately they would not allow the book on card games because it also contained playing cards, or maybe it was just playing cards, not sure, but it was placed in my property. Also the Origami book arrived and suffered the same fate, because it contained paper in addition to the book. Which sucks. So I still need a book (just a book) on it, and nothing else. Could you possibly send a new one that is just a book? And going forward, send only books and nothing else with them. That's the rule, and there is no allowance for any deviation from or reinterpretation of that rule. Please make sure Mom understands this as well, as these items do me no good locked away in my property, and are therefore also impossible for you to refund or exchange either. Which is just a total waste all around. Oh yes, I'm sure Lacey is quite demanding and starving all the time now, and I completely believe she is capable of leaving Mom feeling harassed and hen pecked, lol. Life here in C pod-iso is an adjustment. Just getting an eating utensil with meals is a hassle, paper spoons are provided to people in suicide watch and medical, but apparently not here in the regular pods, which leads me to believe there must be a standard issue utensil, which i don't have, when I mentioned this to the officer dispensing food at lunch, he said " figure something out " and walked away. I will have to talk to the officers, since I started in suicide watch and for the last three and a half months have been in areas that are heavily restricted, I suspect there are many things which I should have but never received. The mat is flat and has very little cushion left, the cell is small, filthy, and has some spots on the wall that appear to be bloody fingerprints. So it's 7 puppies instead of 8? Also did the social workers pass my notes to you regarding the accounts to cancel the spotify subscription yet? I also had some instructions for some of my personal property in there for you.

Okay, no problem. She is probably awaiting approval from the attorneys, she has to run everything by them first. It looks like i have used up the free bonus messages on this system, so now it will start using the credits. It seems this message will use 50 credits. How much do these credits cost? I currently have 200 As far as the notes about my some of my personal property at the house, it was mostly instructions for what to do with my Warhammer 40k miniatures and terrain. I have a bin of terrain pieces in a yellow and black bin in the garage that had been left near the treadmill, and several plastic boxes full of minis in my room and even under the desk. If you want to get them out of the way, I was going to suggest finding one of my friends on my facebook page, Matt Miesel, and seeing if he would be interested in any of them or the terrain. Or if he might be able to help you sell them. Or if you would rather just donate them to the North Port group, he could possibly help with that too. If he is willing. Contact him and see if he is willing to, and if so, coordinate with him. As for any of my BattleTech minis or supplies, just leave those alone for now. There are some boxes for BattleTech, and also a small grey box with a red handle that is labeled BattleTech near the handle, that contains a lot of my BattleTech minis, just keep that aside along with anything else BattleTech related until we know more about how things will go. Matt wouldn't be interested in them, and almost none of the other guys play it either. So hold on to it until I figure things out on my end. There is a second small grey box with a red handle that is not labeled, it contains a lot of Star Wars: Legion minis, and it belongs with all the stuff that is in a blue bag on the closet floor that contains a bunch of other Star Wars: Legion and X-Wing stuff. I don't know what to do with that, I don't think Matt would be interested, but maybe Tristan might like it if you guys were inclined to ship it up to him. I don't know. It's up to you. For my trading card games and cards that are in the plastic drawers under my desk, leave them alone for now. But if we need to part with them in the future, Frank Peralta may be interested in some of them. But as I said, leave them for now until things become more certain for me, one way or the other. They have some value. And as for my Tamagotchi and Vpet collection that is hanging in the closet and around the room, don't do anything with them just yet until we know how things will shake out. A lot of them are rare, expensive, and difficult/impossible to replace in the kind of pristine condition they are in. So leave them be for now. Until we know more about what my situation is going to be. Sorry for the info dump, but basically just contact Matt Miesel about my Warhammer stuff, see if he's willing to help you with it, and don't get rid of any of my other stuff until we know more.

In simpler terms To be eligible to vote, you must be: A citizen of the United States A resident of Florida 18 years of age on or before the date of the next general election Not adjudicated mentally incapacitated with respect to voting in Florida or any other state, or, if you were adjudicated mentally incapacitated, you have had your rights restored by a court. Not convicted of a felony (and not had your civil rights restored) Incarcerated Voters & Returning Citizens: A person who has been convicted of a felony is not eligible to vote in Florida unless they have had their right to vote restored after completing their entire sentence. This includes incarceration, parole and/or probation, and payment of all fines, fees, costs, and restitution. Once their right to vote has been restored, they can register to vote. Note: This does not apply to those convicted of murder or a sexual offense. Pretrial detention and misdemeanors do not restrict your voting rights. For assistance reviewing a person's criminal records to determine what steps need to be taken for that person to vote, please call 407-710-5496 or email canivote@lwvfl.org. The LWVFL can refer you to a pro bono lawyer who may be able to help you. Voters without traditional residence: It is not mandatory for citizens to possess a "permanent home" for voter registration. A citizen can provide an alternative description of their residence, even if they are experiencing homelessness, as long as it enables the authorities to identify and assign a voting precinct to them. This precinct assignment ensures that the voter receives the appropriate ballot. The mailing address on their registration form can be a P.O. box, local shelter, advocacy organization, outreach center, or the home of someone who will accept mail for them.

Hey, I have just gotten the tablet again at least for a little while. The battery seems to run out quickly on it though, might last only a couple hours. I have received The Hobbit, so that makes 5 books total received beside the Origami and cards that were stuck into my property. Still waiting delivery of Congo. How are things at the poodle palace? I miss you guys, and my mind is often occupied by thoughts of home. I wish I was there to help with the puppies. How are they and Lacey?

Hey Steph, sorry for the delay in responding. I just saw this. Amazon cancelled the order but we reordered it. Mom ordered a replacement Origami book. Be on the look out for that. The puppies are doing well. We recorded one of the puppies how was making sounds like Chewbacca and immediately decided to call the puppy - WOOKIE! Lacy is being a super mother. Takes after her mother Kissy. Wish I could show you a photo of her nursing towards the end of the first day. She's face planted and the puppies are nursing. Sort of I'm exhausted, just nurse and leave me alone. Not much going on other then working and puppy. Here's mom. As we were talking on the phone last time, I was looking up the books you said you wanted and putting them in the cart for later. I wanted to make sure I got the right ones. We will send out a couple at a time. I did reorder Congo. I don't know why Amazon cancelled it but they did. Maybe didn't have one available in paperback. Hopefully this one goes through. Dad is right about Lacey, she is a great testament to Kissy, as Kissy was to Dazzle. The pups are gaining 2-3 ounces a day - now all are over a pound. I'm about halfway through with the ENS exercises. They only go for 2 weeks. Looks like eye shine in the inner corners of the eyes. By next week they will be able to see, hear and start walking. They are LOUD! I don't get much sleep between the heat lamp, night light, pups making their noises and Lacey's demands to be taken outside every other hour and fed every 4-5 hours. It is truly a labor of love for us both. Love smelling and holding pups again. Wish you were here too. I finally reached the 50 pounds lost mark. Dad is looking like a 3rd world refugee he is so skinny. LOL!! Big hugs and stay strong. We love you.

Hey Dad looks that skinny? Wow! And congrats to Mom for the 50lb milestone! I imagine I look rather changed as well. I just got a look at my face in the dark reflection of this tablet, my eyes are a bit sunk in with dark circles underneath, and my cheekbones are sticking out so much they look like they could cut you. I don't doubt that I am continuing to lose weight, I am going on 4 months now here, and in all that time I have never felt a full stomach, and have in fact forgotten what that is like. There is never a time these days when I don't feel hungry, even right after a meal in which I completely clear my tray, I still feel hungry. But I am trying my best to at least stay in some kind of shape, have done many pushups and crunches over the last few weeks. Arms are starting to look a bit bigger, it's funny how quickly and dramatically i get results from working out, I really should have done it more before. So you called the puppy WOOKIE instead of the obvious CHEWIE?? Chewie sounds much better! Lol. I miss you both very much. One nice benefit of the tablet is access to the law library, which has alot of case law and rulings. I have been busy looking through that a bit for anything relevant to my own situation and think I have found some things which give me some hope, but only some. I am not foolish enough to get my hopes entirely up for anything, and can only really hope that my legal team will agree with my ideas and are willing to pursue them as tenaciously as I want them to. I can't explain too much here, but there is still perhaps a slim hope for my situation. At any rate, my odds are not 0% at this time. Patience and faith, and no small amount of praying and hoping is what is getting me through. I maintain hope that I might be able to come home once this whole nasty business has reached its end, and ask that you both remain hopeful as well and continue to pray for me to be delivered home again. I have to have that hope, or I would be falling into true despair and lose the will to live. So keep that hope yourselves as well. Patience and faith. Still trying to figure out the issue with commissary on this tablet, it's blank when I open the link. An official came to check on me today to see how I'm doing in isolation (really to see if I'm cracking up and need to go back into the care and watch of mental health) and I mentioned to him my issues with commissary, he said he would look into it. I also opened a request to administration through this tablet regarding the issue as well, a few days ago, so I expect a reply in the next day or two. I have only 7 coffees left, which is dangerously low for me, i usually like 2 a day and have started rationing down to 1, but soon I will have none, and then I will be really glum. I also have only 3 pieces of root beer candy left, so things are getting quite bleak here for me in C-iso. I have not been able to resupply since i left the medical pod. I received a random drug test today, my name popped up on the list for it, which neither myself or the officer could understand since he knew as well as me that I've been in isolation the whole time, so we both chuckled and shrugged and did it anyway. Go figure. I wish I could be there when the pups start to open their eyes, that always one of my favorite times with them. Seeing their little eyes grow more clear, and walking up to the pen and seeing all the little tails start wagging when they see me as they do that little puffy chested prancing march over to greet me. I'm glad Lacey is such a good mom, and wish I was there to pet her and praise her. I may have the tablet a while longer, so write back if you like and I might see it tonight, if not in the next day or two. Love you both! Hugs and kisses!

You don't see the commissary and cannot order anything? I hope that gets resolved quickly. Do you remember your balance? Jail and prison are not meant to be comfortable. All part of the mental punishment I guess. Stay positive, talk with your attorneys. I keep thinking about how you would not ever rat out a friend. It really made me mad and I felt like you valued them over us when you let them get away with stuff. Don't be doing that again. We all know [REDACTED] was heavily involved in this and I am disgusted that she is free and you are not when this is not all your fault!! You need to think about yourself more and her less. She sure isn't thinking of you and how she can help you right now. That whole family is willing to stay quiet and let you take the fall for everything. When you do that you are hurting us too. Please, get out of your head over this and start talking with your attorneys. This stuff is serious - and you need to approach it as life and death, which it is. I think of the craziness [REDACTED] lived through with [REDACTED] various partners ... Not a stable life at all for a child. I do pray for [REDACTED] and for you daily. I am thrilled that you are working out again and have a physical outlet for the stress. I hope you get your coffee and candy straightened out quickly. So far, I haven't seen a cancellation on Congo. Let us know as stuff filters down to you through the system. THIS Origami book is just paperback - no paper, just patterns if I read it right. Well I am off to feed the curly ones now. Love, hugs and prayers now and every day and night. Mom

Yep, it's a blank screen when I pull up the commissary link, I think if I recall I asked around the 19th for you to drop $30 in, but haven't been able to order, so minus $2 per day since then, maybe $18 left at this point. So maybe drop more in so it will have funds whenever I do get this sorted, I'll keep you updated on that. I will let you know as the books come in, so far I have The Hobbit, Eaters of The Dead, Sphere, Dragon Teeth, Timeline, and the Sudoku book. I have finished The Hobbit today

(how I enjoy that book, oh gosh!) And that means I have read all the books you have sent me, lol! I am after all a voracious reader and many of the Crichton books were read straight through in a day and night, they are always such page turners, I can't help it! The battery light is starting to flash on the tablet now so this may be my last message tonight. It really runs out fast under use, and I've even been keeping it logged out with the screen off in between messages! Ugh. In other news, I at least got a standard issue spoon and cup today, so that's one problem solved for the time being. Anyway, I love you both, and will try to get the tablet again in the next day or two. So write back! Hugs and kisses and well wishes to you both, and give my love to the fur babies too! Goodnight xoxoxoxo

I have not seen the attorneys regarding POA yet. I was finally able to use the commissary kiosk yesterday, it said there was $28 in the account, which means by Monday there will be $22, so I had to keep my order under that, but I ordered 25 coffees for delivery on Tuesday, which cost $21.25, couldn't get anymore hard candy or crackers for budget, but I prioritize coffee, and ran out yesterday, so I want to make sure I could get enough to last about 2 weeks if I limit myself to 2 a day(sometimes i do have more though). I received the easy origami book yesterday, and have already learned a few patterns, and wouldn't mind being sent an intermediate one soon. I'm glad you came across the book list, and yes there are more titles I can add to it. As we cycle through the list, I will message you guys to add more. I'm still awaiting delivery of Congo, but as for what to send next, I'm thinking along the lines of Jurassic Park, The Lost World, and perhaps The Lord Of The Rings trilogy (which can be found in a complete single volume paperback), or alternatively "Ready Player One" if you don't want to send the trilogy just yet. As far as other mind games go, not much yet, though I still need a book for single player card game and what not. I will have the tablet for a little while and will try to turn it off to conserve battery and check these messages again in a little while. So write back! Love and hugs!

Ok, I'll put more funds it. Their system says their network is down so I'll keep trying. We'll order what we can. I think Congo is still out for delivery. If I recall there was a delay in shipping. Mom's referring to the list and will send out what we can. Puppies are over a pound now and all have fat bellies. They becoming more active and vocal. It won't be long before their eyes and ears will be open and the fun times begin. Joy! Quiet and calm will slowly dissipate. I switched companies this week as I'm working on something large. Won't go into details due to privacy but all is good. July 10th I am told is a pre-trial meeting to determine if your trial is pushed off to a later date. I'll let you know if I hear anything.

Minus what has already been received or is in transit(like Congo), please make sure it is just books amd not box sets, I have a feeling even the box for the box sets would be an issue. the list is as follows: The Hitchhiker's Guide To The Galaxy Ready Player One Dinotopia Lost The Lord Of The

Rings Trilogy Book The Silmarillion Jurassic Park The Lost World The Andromeda Strain
Pirate Latitudes Micro Jaws Moby Dick Treasure Island 20,000 Leagues Under The Sea
Journey To The Center Of The Earth Dracula Frankenstein The Howling Trilogy Book
Cycle Of The Werewolf Dune Murder On The Orient Express The Icewind Dale Trilogy Book
The Dark Elf Trilogy Book Thats all for now, the battery is getting low again, ugh.
Love you both very much and will check in later or the next couple of days. Hugs and

The HOBBIT

or there and back again

J.R.R. TOLKIEN

THE ENCHANTING PRELUDE TO THE LORD OF THE RINGS

A GREAT MODERN CLASSIC AND THE PRELUDE TO THE LORD OF THE RINGS

"A flawless masterpiece." — The Times

"All those, young or old, who love a finely imagined story, beautifully told, will take The Hobbit to their hearts." — Horn Book

J.R.R. Tolkien's own description for the original edition:

"If you care for journeys there and back, out of the comfortable Western world, over the edge of the Wild, and home again, and can take an interest in a humble hero (blessed with a little wisdom and a little courage and considerable good luck), here is a record of such a journey and such a traveler. The period is the ancient time between the age of Faerie and the dominion of men, when the famous forest of Mirkwood was still standing, and the mountains were full of danger. In following the path of this humble adventurer, you will learn by the way (as he did) — if you do not already know all about these things — much about trolls, goblins, dwarves, and elves, and get some glimpses into the history and politics of a neglected but important period.

"For Mr. Bilbo Baggins visited various notable persons; conversed with the dragon Smaug the Magnificent; and was present, rather unwillingly, at the Battle of the Five Armies. This is all the more remarkable, since he was a hobbit. Hobbits have hitherto been passed over in history and legend, perhaps because they as a rule preferred comfort to excitement. But this account, based on his personal memoirs, of the one exciting year in the otherwise quiet life of Mr. Baggins will give you a fair idea of the estimable people now (it is said) becoming rather rare. They do not like noise."

J.R.R. TOLKIEN (1892–1973) is one of the twentieth century's best-loved writers. His books, which include The Hobbit, The Lord of the Rings, and The Silmarillion, have been translated into more than thirty languages and have sold many millions of copies worldwide.

EATERS OF THE DEAD

"Eaters of the Dead is savory stuff—funny, fascinating, informative, and stuffed with one-upsmanky tomfoolery that twists history and pedagogy while posing provocative questions." —Chicago Tribune

A TALE OF HORRIFYING CUNNING AND SHOCKING SAVAGERY RACING TOWARD A THUNDEROUS CLIMAX

IN A.D. 922, the refined Arab courtier Ahmad Ibn Fadlan accompanies a party of Viking warriors back to their home. He is appalled by their customs—the wanton sexuality of their women, their seeming disregard for cleanliness, and their cold-blooded sacrifices. Yet he follows this clan, led by the fierce chieftain Buliwyf, to the frozen terrain of the barbaric North, where the day's length is no match for the night's. In this forbidding landscape, Ibn Fadlan will learn the truth of what his inscrutable hosts have planned for him as he begins to witness the terrors that plague them: vicious monsters of the mist who emerge under cover of night, seeking human flesh.

"[Crichton] proves his versatility again in Eaters of the Dead. . . Beautifully done." —THE WASHINGTON POST

"A rousing good read." —ASSOCIATED PRESS

"[Crichton] is a connoisseur of catastrophe. . .
A master of plausible and frightening scenarios."
—LOS ANGELES TIMES

INGENIOUS AND BEGUILING." —Time

NOT SINCE JURASSIC PARK HAS DIGGING UP THE PAST BEEN SO DANGEROUS

The legendary #1 New York Times bestselling author of Jurassic Park returns to the world of paleontology in this recently discovered novel...

The year is 1876. Warring Indian tribes still populate America's western territories, even as lawless gold-rush towns begin to mark the landscape, and two monomaniacal paleontologists pillage the Wild West, hunting for dinosaur fossils while surveilling, deceiving, and sabotaging each other.

Into this treacherous territory plunges William Johnson, a student who has joined world-renowned paleontologist Othniel Charles Marsh on his latest expedition. But when Marsh becomes convinced that William is spying for his nemesis, Edward Drinker Cope, he abandons him in Cheyenne, Wyoming, a locus of crime and vice.

William joins forces with Cope and soon stumbles upon a discovery of historic proportions. With this extraordinary treasure, however, comes exceptional danger, and Johnson's newfound resilience will be sorely tested...

"Among all Crichton's novels, it's one of his best, a beautifully detailed, scientifically engrossing, absolutely riveting story."

MICHAEL CRICHTON

NOW A MAJOR MOTION PICTURE

"EXCITING ... CLASSIC ADVENTURE ... [A] SWASH-BUCKLING NOVEL ... CRICHTON DELIVERS."

—USA Today

In an Arizona desert a man wanders in a daze, speaking words that make no sense. Within twenty-four hours he is dead, his body swiftly cremated by his only known associates. Halfway around the world archaeologists make a shocking discovery at a medieval site. Suddenly they are swept off to the headquarters of a secretive multinational corporation that has developed an astounding technology. Now this group is about to get a chance not to study the past but to enter it. And with history opened to the present, the dead awakened to the living, these men and women will soon find themselves fighting for their very survival—six hundred years ago. . . .

"MORE SCREAMS PER PAGE ... THAN JURASSIC PARK AND THE LOST WORLD COMBINED."

—San Diego Union-Tribune

"[A] NONSTOP ROLLER COASTER OF A NOVEL."

—Philadelphia Inquirer

"[A] BIG ROLLIICKING BOOK."

—The Wall Street Journal
